ABOUT ME

Coming from the world of building engineering, always fascinated by the fact of materializing ideas and projects, I decided to open myself to new challenges and horizons in the technological sector and there I discovered a place that I am passionate about and allows me to continue creating, this time from the web development side.

I believe in the importance of clean code and good practices, always applying SOLID principles and striving to make my code easily scalable, reusable and providing confidence through feature testing.

EXPERIENCE

2021- 2023
Pixelon | Molins de Rei, Bcn
